Our religion is no different than any other. It too has different and various forms, but what counts is that you're devout. We have, for instance, a certain idolatry of grades, those five holy letters that reach from above to twist and shape your very destiny. In the chapel and at home, on the wood-and-metal desks of the altars, you make the sacrifices of time, work, sleep, and all the other things necessary to placate this angry god. A religion, perhaps not too lasting, but what matters is if you're devout.

Others find salvation in the Spirit. School spirit, that is. The Fans. Members of clubs, Watchers of games, ardent Participators in the ever-flowing lifestream of Events. They form a more durable sect, for, wherever they might wander, the PTA awaits! In addition, there are the countless splinter sects and minor heresies. Worshippers of the Party, Disciples of the Brawl, Seers, Prophets, High Priests. The list could go on. Then there are the agnostics and the atheists, stubborn individuals who remain in aloof superiority and serene smugness. Not me, they say.

Roaring air over fighting mad plunging of frenzied cleated feet and padded protected bones straining muscle in wrenching effort of rushingly unleashed force from grinding collision to galloping mayhem with screaming surging pulsing crowd in the rhythm of ebb-and-flow victory urging commanding demanding a team interconnected confusion collectively working attempting together a goal a win in a security framework of team-mates friends fellow travelers enclosed surrounded but sometimes not always unwillingly stranded and gallantly standing . . . alone

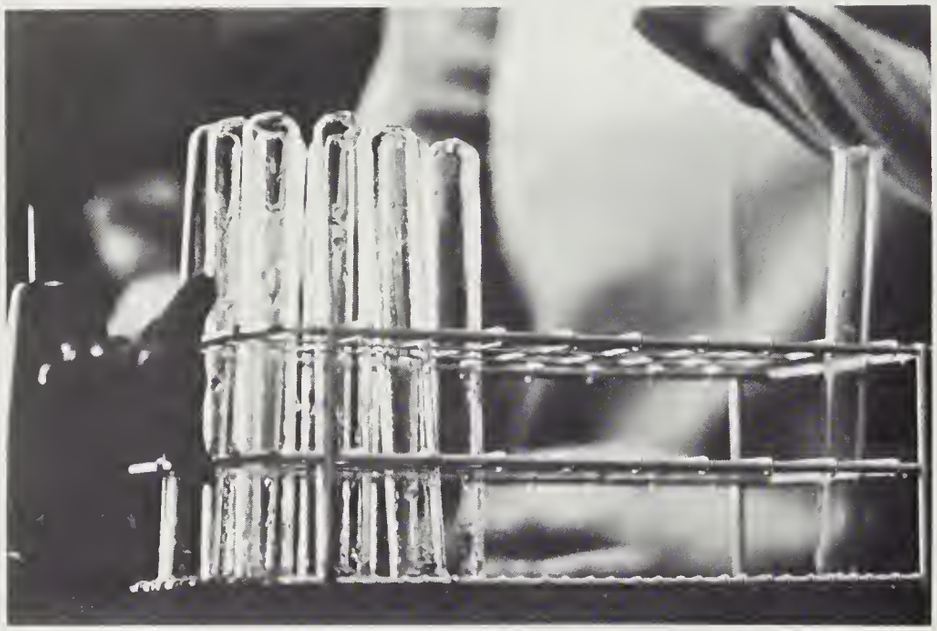
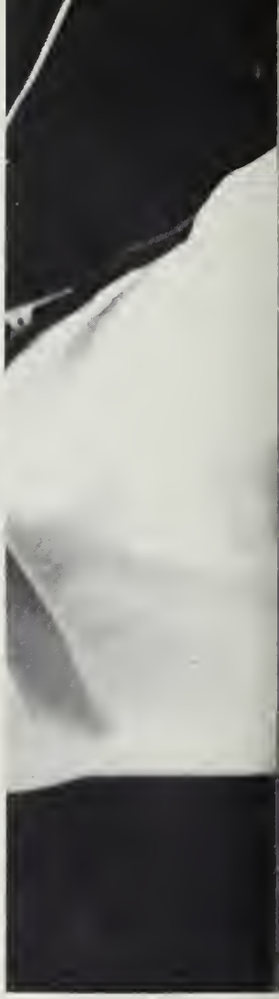
Homecoming

The time to set up the school for a small returning segment of times past, as the spectacle of sport and the pageant of beauty combine to form our homage to those who have passed on. The duly elected examples of our prime pulchritude who now wait in seated nervousness with slightly surprised escorting heroes, all wondering who will be the one who can jump for ecstatic joy as the reigning monarch of beauty. Time, and, of course, there's only one. But still the rest remain in honor and in their chosen faces keep and reflect the many-mooded facets of an honoring school.

See How They Run
See How They Run

From the carefree somnolence and camfartable niches of childhaod we pass naw into the unlimited immensity af awareness af the possible. And naw, in the in-between time before the possible becomes actual, we take the time to prepare for the well-knawn, brute-force reality with aur awn special version, which is a bit more easy to deal with. So we arm aurselves with some first and much second hand knawledge af that langed-far "real" warld, and with all the skill and inexperience at our disposal, we fashion for aurselves a little practice world where we can try it on and see how it fits. Naturally, we are very selective abaut what we let into our world . Mainly it's thase fascinating mysteries and attentian-getters that we find after careful observatian of our movies, magazines, and baoks. Then aff we ga and aur world is carefully built in miniature and caricature and deadly earnest.





Well, what do we find as we travel the highways and byways of secondary reality? Nothing, of course, but the brand passions and heights of individual fulfillment. And first . . . there's Love. Yes, Love. Glorious Love. The climatic all-consuming moment when boy meets girl and ring meets finger and the topsy-turvey world becomes steady. Watch, and you can see them in the halls, walking in ill-contained desiring steps as close as the load of schoolbooks will allow, twining arms and shining eyes but careful just in case someone might be laughing, because you might be going too far or have picked the wrong one, and who's going to tell you but your friends? Or else defiant ("Who cares what you think? I've got Love."). Then the Moment ("I guess I've got to say good-bye." "Yes." "Well . . . good-bye." "Good-bye, and be careful." "I will . . . you too." "For you." "Yes, will I see you after Phys. Ed? . . ."). But the budding young reality-mongers must all too soon learn that even immortal Love can die. Then comes the parting in tears and hate and betrayal of carefully-nurtured faith. The return of the ring and the realization that this is the End. The End. And tomorrow in school when next you meet you must painfully watch the floor, and again in the days of sadness that follow until at last you can once more daily meet the eyes of the person from whom you have parted forever.

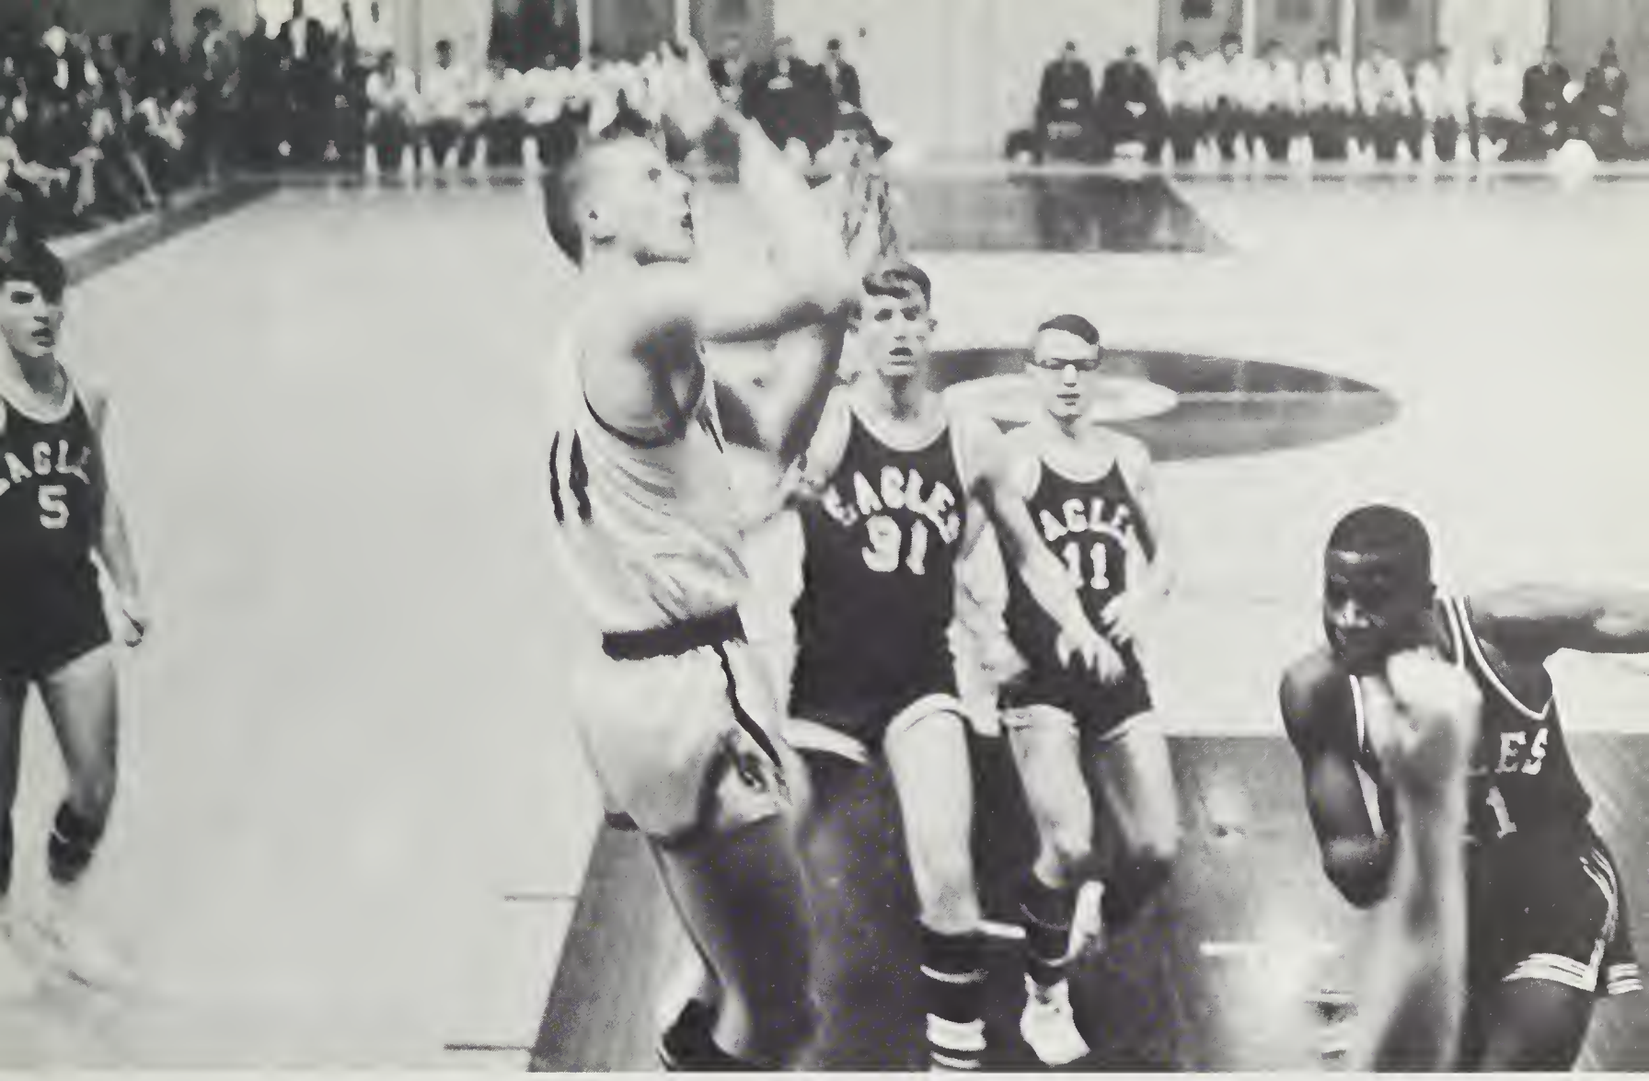
BASKETBALL



The boys—surprising everyone with a sudden show of win. What makes them mend their dribbling ways, who knows? It is enough that we may call them ours.

TIGER

And the girls—streaking to victory after victory. Roundball credits mounting up and up in a precarious tower of invincibility, higher and higher until a fall must hurt too much to bear and there's no place to go but up.

Susan Schreck, Nat'l. Merit Scholarship Finalist

Academic Achievement

Sold! to the highest bidder! Topnotch grade A cream and stratified success! Four years waiting, working, shaking, making sure that what finally rises to the top is indeed worthy to be skimmed. All that glitters is not gold, you know, and true merit is rarer still. But, then, it's easier to be found. Read the record, examine the charts, compute! compute! and check the lists. And there it is. Four years making an end to work and waiting, shaking hands and bated breath. The final picture. Here they are.

Jill

Up from down under. A small Jill came this year to Groveton. A little bit of the upside-down land come to see how things are in this topsy-turvy world balanced precariously on the other side of the globe. Sampling strangeness and maybe a little hemmed in by the press of curiosity, but then she's got a lot to be curious about too. A mutual regard, as we confer the honors of otherness on our vistor in whom, if all goes well, we might, much to our surprise, see a little bit of ourselves.

Student Cooperative Association

In the hectic life of Realpolitik there's no rest for the weary. Onward must they march, these keepers of the public trust from whose broad brows no burden slips. In their zeal for the common weal, they roll steadily from room to room, dragging with them the administrative weight of responsibility. Hawklike eyes search everywhere for that most elusive of school spirits; traplike hands seek valiantly to drag it from the murky depths; and the voices, with monotonic semi-coherency, surge relentlessly through the halls in a hopeful song of praise. Bring a smile to the face and a cheer to the lips and the battle is half won. Thus, in eager simplicity, the ministerial minions flow in and around our lives, to leave behind the impression of something gone.

Honor Council

And now breathe softly as the Honor Council meets in quiet solemnity. Behind those shrouded mystery portals is determined, with dignity and justice for all, the now-imperiled fate of he who has sinned and lost. They whom we have chosen as guardians of the collective conscience must speak with righteous judgement and impartial justice, with hardly a glance to the sponsor, and levy the wages of sin upon he who sits bowed with the heaviness of shame. Once again, wrong-doing is avenged and the robes are removed as the agents of Honor take their places among us to watch faithfully, balancing in the scales of blind justice our deeds against the awesome weight of the omni-present Code. So with eyes closed and ears open do they wait and whoever does wrong in the eyes of his enemy is thereby named and must stand ready to meet his Honor.

Homeroom Representatives

Into the halls pour the hordes of representatives. Fire in their eyes, faith in their hearts, and firmness in their tread, they stride proudly to the library for the fine notices. With vibrant voices and fearful glances to the PA. they hasten to share the mimeographed Matters of Interest which spring from their meetings in the best of Parliamentarian manner. Alas, that such would-be generosity should show itself in such grand ineffectuality, for the Matters are too long and the periods too short and the announcements leave time for but little, which is saved by the bell.

P. Viar, D. Gray, J. Leonard, D. Meehan, N. Carver, K. Nunn, C. Pao, C. Shaw, K. Lusk, L. Clark, P. Jackson, D. Stephens, S. Freeman, W. Radin, T. Anderson, A. Sinaiko, M. Minnix, J. Schorr, L. Madrigals

Another step up on the musical scale, and of course there aren't such a bunch. A step toward quality with a continuing effort at self and group perfection. They step into a blackness of robes and an unfurling of sound on a background of silken harmony. Toward a continued progression they turn hopeful eyes, and hopeful mouths turn to waiting ears in a hopeful attempt to please.

Members: First Row: K. Nelson, A. Goschke, J. Weston, V. Wallace, V. Grigg, D. Fitzgerald, J. Henderson, K. Lusk; Second Row: D. Bailey, T. Saunders, A. Noll, B. Williams, J. Seibert, R. Latham, G. Broadhurst, W. Lamerce.

Symphonic Choir

The high-octave brand. Each personal tuning fork toned to perfection. A blend of the finest ingredients for a recipe to please. Dark-robed rovers of the musical domain, searching for a song and a way. From out of the musical distillery comes a finished product, refined in a stream of sound to flow easily and go down smoothly. Auditorium assembly music to make the time pass faster, to add a bit of inspiration, just to celebrate the season. In the open-mouthed wonder of song they broadcast eternally to the room and the winds and, here and there, to the wonder of an open ear.

Members: First Row: L. Childress, K. Zimmerman, L. Powell, S. Rosser, L. Santoroski, A. Peques, D. Dimartino, C. Dunn, D. Decker, J. Mannon, L. Belles; Second Row: E. Miles, C. Moynihan, K. Chorus

They have to remind us there's music as they try to give life to the seasons, which are only too full of a life in suspension. In the faultless progression of note-to-note, we see only the disorder that is our own. The burst-ing-free sound can only counterbalance our own careful captivity. But listen, if you will. From that special seat in that special section, listen and let whatever is free drift in its own attempt to find its own Music of the Spheres.

Band

Music en masse. Organized to symmetry and synchronization, the many become a group and the group becomes one. As a unit, then, the whole of collective instruments serves its function as a mood. Draw a chord, add color and texture and let it slip the stream which carries our songs, our games, our victories, our defeats. Add motion and it's a marching band. Take away a few guys and it's an All-State band (less quantity = more quality?). But through it all, it's our band and our mood, the mood which is, for better or worse, that which we call Groveton.

Members: First Row: C. Reifsnyder, B. Hughes, C. Oswell, M. Batey, S. Sanders, T. Morrow, T. Spence; Second Row: C. Hellner, J. McConnaughey, B. Coley, B. Graubard, B. Schmidt, D. Nickham, F. Drill Team

Out of Chaos came Order and there was a Drill Team.

Members: First Row: W. Gosney, L. Santroski, S. Thornton (Historian), W. Prince (1st Co-Capt.), C. Phillips (2nd Co-Capt.), V. Wallace (Capt.), C. Spear, D. Anderson, V. Miller, D. Puryear, T. Anderson, S. Sprouse.

Stage Crew

Build an idea in wood and paint. Carpentry with a difference. Make it strong enough to stand and it's solid rock. Our non-existent glass is just as transparent as yours and we never put our fingers through it. The set and substance of real pretend. Lights! Day, night, dark, bright. A flick of the switch and . . . well, maybe another . . . and another. Think you can try to be ready by opening? But the work goes on till the curtain goes up and chaos comes to order on the other side of the flats.

Members: First Row: A. Hall; Second Row: S. Walsn, B. Brigston, A. Lamothe, G. Lukens, H. Brahen; Third Row: T. Anderson.

Thespians

To pretend is to find reality in a world of your own devising. When you act, you find a reality of pretending. A world of stage and effect that constantly changes, constantly showing something more. For a time, the play's the thing and everything else pretending of no importance. Character becomes man, actor the most useful prop. Backstage — anxious suspension of breath, strained silence, soft noises, cautious movements in the dark (set props fix costume listen your cue you're on) and on out into the light.

Members: First Row: R. Merrfield (Pres.), J. Arnette, R. Dougherty, B. Vance, K. Wells, R. Dunham; Second Row: L. Weaver (Clerk), A. Lamothe, C. Youso, J. Matthews, D. Davis, J. Fitzsimmons, R. Gravis, V. Ford (Sec.); Third Row; C. Herbert (Treas.), J. Bennett, D. Arnold (V. Pres.); Not Pictured: J. Ficke, R. Hendrick, A. Meiklejohn.

Yearbook

Nothing but praise for they without whom the which which is here would not appear. Within the infant realm of this place of chaos and cheer enter all the shapes and forms that drift in and out of the high school world. Oh, it's a microcosm, all right, and any kind of cosm is hard to make. But on, noble crew! On with nets swinging wildly to catch the ethereal butterflies of the spirit and the banal corporealities of the corridors. Turn to the rhythm of Soul, give in to Temptations and be guided. The Book must come, the Book will come (the Book should come) and another step, another leap, another notch in the wheel. Turn the wheel and full circle to next year, this legacy at large is left to those who follow the steps and leaps which lead to the larger life beyond the bounds of microcosm.

Tiger Rag

Possessing the Proud New Look and the Fresh Young Blood . . . A place of friendship and brotherhood where the talents of all are pooled. Trusty news hounds are sent out to prove their worth in the grand arena of events. In the upper echelons, raw thought is delicately distilled into statements of opinion. Page by page the pageant of life finds expression for mass consumption. Plumes for their hats when they find that somebody out there likes the page. Deadlines closer and closer — never say die. They go on, and if sometimes there doesn't seem to be anything to print we have only ourselves to blame. And anyway, they can say (as Groveton often does), No news is bad news.

National Honor Society

Honor; that is to say, leadership, character, service, and scholarship. Not too clear a subject. Kind of an indeterminate basis for a society, you say? Maybe. Still, it does serve a purpose in leading to the development of scholarly characters. And just think, you can look in the membership rolls and there it is . . . our own academic Who's Who. So here we have Groveton's contribution to the cultivation of the spirit. A step in the right direction. It's something. Anyway, the members all pay their dues.

Spanish Honor Society

All the best of Spain. Mr. Dos Passos has no secrets from these purveyors of the Spanish noun. Never over their heads, they breast the currents of language to emerge dry and unscathed. A year, a movie, and a meal and the junior conquistadores retire from the battle, ready to return and continue the flight. Some will be listed as missing in action, of course, but for these there are always more to be attracted by the lure of tortillas and pinatas. And so continue the honor and the glory of a word or more. On them have gone the work and the tide. To them belong the spoils that only the savants of a tongue will know.

French Honor Society

A Champs-Elysees of the mind. Come with us to gay Paris, there to scale a linguistic Tour Eiffel, to arrive at the verbal Arc de Triomphe and to bask in the sidewalk sun of achievement. Not for naught are the long years. Not for the many the final note of recognition. Clothed in the sumptuous garb of honor such as only Louis Quatorze, the Sun King; possessed of the proud heritage of Monsieur Charles; eager consumers of nothing but the best French cuisine; the wreathed heroes stride through the jardins of the flowery language of love and wish, perhaps, for a small authentic touch of the old country.

Latin Honor Society

Ta thase who have canquered the language that canquered the warld. Thraugh the dim corridors af time the voices af Rame step farward to be heard in the light of Latin I, II, III, and IV. The achievements af ancient warriars of the sword now are linked with the achievements of modern warriars af the pen, and the dead is revived to life in the praud yaung vaices. An hanorable culminatian af the diligent years and faithful fulfillment of lessan plans. We who are abaut ta leave salute yau.

Debate

The composition of knowledge and rhetoric. Invincibility lies in convince-ability and a pointed attack. Pro and con validity confirmed or proscribed to individual joy or horror. Strength lies in diversity and detail to pick apart a gallantly defended argument in an approved and honorable manner. Verbal procession of well-seeming forms. The art and essence of the persuasive process of debate.

Key and Keyette Clubs

Their role, their function, their reason for being is service. Service, the key to character, the sacred fulfillment of duty, the be-all and end-all of the functionaries of the school. In pursuit of service, they must meet and pass all the many obstacles that inevitably beset their path. Money, The means to service, The elusive quantity that cannot be ignored. Servitude, The ultimate in the high ideals of service. The final, logical synthesis in the dialectics of service and money. Smiling from under the loads of books, from cramped crawling on the floor, from interminable stands in the lunch lines, the devotees march onward, over onward, in diligent search for the secret of service.

Science Club

Exploring the wonders without with the wonders within. A small setting forth to discovery armed with the miracle weapons of thought and eager daring. Dabbling with the logics of inspiration, they press forward on a boundless voyage which now only begins to begin, looking for the doors for which they must find the keys and stand on the thresholds to see the beyond which can end only in a new beginning.

Chess Club

The game of kings yields democratic to these subtle mental jousters. Agile minds and nimble fingers in a spell of intricate fascination, as pawn meets pawn and bishop meets his doom. So perish the loyal followers as curses and epithets race back and forth over the red and the black: "Check" and "Mate" words charged with deadly meaning. But courage, friends, it's all in the mind, although analogies abound where we can see ourselves checked off and mirrored as careening castles and leaping knights smile back with familiar faces.

Varsity Letterman's Club

Organized athletic excellence. Meetings and jackets now occupy the time of those who have reached the happy state of accomplishment. And, of course, there's a businesslike concern with mundane monetary affairs as the need for an exhibition of insignias asserts itself and a dancing public is allowed to join in the subsidizing of organized athletic excellence.

Girls' Athletic Association

The haute couture of feminine sportsmanship. Delicately tailored outfits filled out and lettered in an effort to give due recognition to the athletic ability and female charms which find such a happy meeting in the agile bodies of these nymphs of court and field. The girls, the wonder of all in their unparalleled drive, achievement of fitness and uniform dedication to the values that can turn such frail creatures into veritable tigers.

Vocational and Industrial Clubs of America
Looking toward life with the directness of a building. The waiting hands must be trained into activity as school is combined with on-the-job reality. The readiest to go and the soonest to do, they drive on into the world in the cars which they themselves have made to go.

Pep Club

Fight, team, fight. The gentle whips of prompting insistent voices flit with spirit over the inertness of a mass spectatorship. The bodily gyrations are pleasing to the eye, but only when the lungs are filled with an air of victory are the cheers returned and the massive inertness converts with a fighting team to an expression at last of mass pep.

Latin Club

For the good fellowship of all under the gaudy banner of Rome. And in their own modest way they pay their respects to the language on whose grave they plant a flower or two. A sundial, perhaps? A bust of the poet? A banquet for sure. Sort of a wishful remembrance of the bygone days when they really knew how to throw a party. Not quite up to the old standards, of course, but, then, after a year of Latin lessons, who has the strength?

German Club

Precision and organization the legacy to the scions of this noble tongue of famous philosophers and semi-successful soldiers. Years of hard thinking enclosed in the normalities of language and club, but at least they're the pastries for hungry bodies, and a movie and a march and a pat-on-the-back farewell.

French Club

In their own small way a little spot of the old country to remind the Mademoiselle Papin that perhaps the words of France too can find a home in a foreign land. The difference in words if not in thought, and echoes of a gay Paris to call eager ears, eyes, and minds to a place known only with a tongue.

Spanish Club

So Isabella comes tripping lightly on small Spanish feet to the wistful strains and longed-for nostalgia of a hot-blooded tune. Visions of torros, tortillas, pinatas all in and for fun and a small language try. Accomplished in interest, if not quite in performance, with a cheery Ole! and a good Spanish time.

Future Homemakers of America

For their chosen field they are admirably suited by nature. Motherhood, the kitchen, economics of the home are such matters as occupy their time and attention. Delicate aromas perfume the halls to tell us that, never resting, never stopping, the girls continue fearlessly in the pursuit of excellence and the secrets of better housekeeping.

Future Teachers of America

Learning the art of to teach. In their hands lie the minds of the future and on their backs lie responsibility of now and then. Not only instruction but also example tell them where and where not to go, for, fortunate them, they live even now in the world they will someday create. So with future in their eyes and pencil in their hands they look for a secret, a method, an art in which knowledge possessed to knowledge desired can, through their hands, one day flow freely and well.

Future Nurses of America

Bandages, towels, knives, and strong stomachs. All are required for these eager learners of the saving graces who, in selfless fulfillment, work tirelessly in sickness and in health for ending pain and continuing life. For them, the lifting of an eyelid can be all and the ultimate thank you as one more wandering soul is returned from the fields of death.

FRESHMEN

Enter, the fresh load of loaded dice for the Groveton Game. Now is the time to spin the dial and mark out your steps on the checkerboard-tiled floor of Academe. Shake up the cup, sift wheat from chaff, and cast your lots. Pass your nine weeks of Go and collect your bonus (be it giant or otherwise). We bid welcome to these initiates, who have yet to learn the Rules of The Game. May you partake of our Gambler's Luck as you take your leap. Now hop yourself from square to square. We spin again . . . again . . . again. And where you stop, nobody knows.

SOPHOMORES

Naw that the blushes are all faded and wide eyes become half-shut, what will yau da taday, Saphamares? Yau wha used ta be sa yaung. Yau say that naw is the time far all games to come to an end, because Life is a seriaus business. There are a lot af peaple ta watch and learn the tricks of how-ta-do-it fram. It's time ta make your mark and shaw the power of pasitive Sophomore thinking. But yau know about the thinking in the na-man's land af Sophomority, with all the empty-headed spaces that must be filled with samething. Sa yau play at the game af knowing, make sure yau know wha knaws you're knawing, and wait . . .

JUNIORS

Well, it's come to the year of junior seniority. The half-way point and the process of calibration begins in earnest. From pen to pin and up onto the wall with you. There is your vantage point to look around and see what it's all about. You've collected a fair amount of game cards, you see. It's really up to you. Just open up those somewhat filtered-starlight eyes and start wriggling your way toward freedom. It's nothing but a year.

Data processing. Calibration, classification, codification, calculation, a dash or two of confusion, and perhaps some capitulation. Such is the stuff that Senior dreams are made of. Gather together your building blocks and place men. One last spin of the dial and they'll send you on your way. No backward looks. You've got your toys, and there's a big wide world for you to play in. Of course, the rules might be a little different from ours, but we're sure you can manage. After four years of our own unique kind of game, who could complain? You could, eh? All right then, would you care to step outside?

To the Graduating Class:

A Message of Congratulations from Virginia's Oldest National Bank

Although First & Citizens National Bank is the oldest National Bank in Virginia, founded in 1864, we dedicate ourselves to the future.

This year finds graduates at the threshold of tomorrow — entering a new and better world, with more challenges and more rewards than at any time in history. We of First and Citizens share with you every confidence in this future.

Many of you, we are sure, will come to know First & Citizens personally in the years ahead. We look forward to the pleasure of serving you as a financial counselor, as a neighbor, and as a fellow citizen. We pledge to serve you well.

Our heartfelt congratulations to each of you.

"WOULD YOU BELIEVE?"

"Would You Believe?" The class of 1968 sponsored this year's variety show, a money-making project which aids in financing the Junior-Senior Prom. A financial success, the show was directed as a whole by Mrs. Judy Ross, with Miss Carolyn Shockey, Miss Nancy Solman, and Miss Debbie Chappell in charge of the sophomore, junior, and senior skits, respectively. Also helping in the production were Miss Grace Hill, Mrs. Dorothy Kogelman, Mr. Robert Auman, and Mr. Robert Caviola. The show consisted of satire, comedy, and songs, performed by the students and teachers, and offered an enjoyable evening of entertainment to both the audience and the cast.

Funarama On May 12-13 the S.C.A. sponsored an inter-club money-raising project open to the public, featuring rides, dances, booths, refreshments, and a dunking machine. The profits were divided equally among the clubs participating.

National Merit Scholarship This year Susan Schreck was the only winner of the Merit Scholarship at Groveton.

It's Academic On April 15th the team of John Schultz (Captain), Penny Johnson, and Susan Schreck competed against the schools of High Point (310 points) and T. C. Williams (240 points). Groveton came in second with a score of 280 points.
